There are two properties that would be useful for implementations that need to parse or produce emoji. These properties are also useful in the submission and encoding process, so that we are sure to determine exactly what the gender status of each character is.

Emoji_Gender_Base:

This is the set of those characters that human form with visible faces, but without explicit gender appearance (vendors may choose to show a particular gender, but TR51 recommends a neutral gender). These are also used as bases in the Emoji 5.0 RGI sequences, appending ZWJ + MALE SIGN or ZWJ + FEMALE SIGN. A list for Emoji 5.0 is included below.

Emoji_Explicit_Gender:

This is the set of characters with explicit gender appearance. There is a list in UTS#51 Gender, but it should be in machine-readable form so that people don't have to scrape the doc to get it.
