The editorial group briefly reviewed all submissions and discussed the IDS checking result and its analysis. The editorial group requested the submitters to enhance the quality of submissions (especially for IDS, evidences, variants and related characters) by 2016-01-08. The submitters are reminded that resubmissions that do not pass the 5% quality assurance rule will be rejected as a whole.

All submissions will be subjected to cross check for quality before acceptance in IRG#46. All submitters are encouraged to further review their submissions during the IRG quality review period. Problems identified by submitters for withdrawal will not be counted in the quality counting.

The submission reviewers are China, Japan, ROK, TCA, HKSARG, UTC, SAT, Mr. John Knightley and Mr. Andrew West.

The submission and review schedule is as below:

- 2016-05-13: Submitters response to comments for discussion at IRG#46.

2. Relationship between Khitan and CJK

Reference:

- UK: IRGN2107 UK Submission

The editorial group noted that UK submission contained some Khitan scripts (契丹文字). There are suggestions in the editorial group that these kinds of scripts such as Khitan and Jurchen (女真) should be encoded separately because they were different language systems although they looked like CJK ideographs. IRG encourages experts to study this issue and submit feedback for discussion in IRG#46.
