1. In order to let domestic users understand and make good use of the full repertoire of CNS 11643, the National Development Committee held eight briefing sessions in Taipei, Taichung, Kaohsiung and Hualien, from June to July 2018. Those briefing sessions introduced the current status of domestic and international character encoding standards, the full repertoire application and self-created character processing tools, and collects users' usage and opinions to enhance the service quality of the full repertoire of CNS 11643. The total number of participants in the application briefing session was 289, and the participating institutions had the largest number of state-owned businesses, followed by the central ministries and local governments.

2. The Executive Yuan has established the "Measures for the Openness of Government Information Awards" to strengthen and sustain the development of government information and enhance the quality of data and value-added applications, and organize related activities, with the hope of document quality certification and public participation mechanisms. Encourage agencies to optimize data open operations. The full repertoire of CNS 11643 has been established since 1999 and has indeed resolved the long-standing problem of missing characters and transcoding in the organization group. Therefore, the event won the 2nd place in the "Information Open Gold Quality Award" and the 4th place in the "Information Open Application Award".
