GENERAL DESCRIPTION AND TRAVEL INFO

Yale is located in New Haven, Connecticut, one of the best small cities in America, situated two-and-a-half hours south of Boston and one-and-a-half hours north of New York City. New Haven has many attractions including a thriving downtown district with parks, shops, museums, hotels, and restaurants. Its neighborhoods are home to historic buildings and diverse communities. Beyond the city limits lie beautiful beaches, peaceful lakes, charming New England towns, and pastoral suburbs. New Haven is easily accessible by car, train, bus, and airplane.

Airplane

If coming from abroad, the easiest way to travel to Yale University is by air. There are a number of nearby airports serviced by international airlines.

Bradley International Airport (BDL) in Windsor Locks, Connecticut

John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK) in New York City

LaGuardia International Airport (LGA) in New York City

Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR) in Newark, New Jersey

Tweed New Haven Airport (HVN) in New Haven, Connecticut

Amtrak provides services from Newark airport to New Haven's Union Station. For all other airports, private shuttle services are available through Connecticut Limousine (800.472.5466) and GO Airport Shuttle (866.284.3247). Please be sure to make reservations for shuttle services well in advance.

Taking a taxi from any of these airports except for Tweed is not recommended.

Train

If traveling from within the United States, it is convenient to take a train to New Haven Union Station, minutes from Yale's campus.

Metro-North Railways (800.638.7647) offers frequent train service between New Haven and New York City.

Amtrak (800.872.7245) provides train service to New Haven from Vermont, Providence, Boston, and Washington DC.

Once you reach the station, we suggest that you use a local taxi service to reach campus. There is a taxi stand at the station; a taxi ride costs approximately $10. Alternatively, local shuttles and bus services are also available for travel between Union Station and Yale.

Bus

If traveling from within the United States, it is also possible to take a bus to New Haven Union Station, which also serves as a bus terminal.

Greyhound (203.772.2470)

Peter Pan (800.343.9999)

Car

There are multiple driving routes that you can take to arrive on campus. As a result, we recommend entering your intended Yale destination into your GPS.

Location for lunch on Campus

The first two days of the meeting, on campus dining is available at Yale Commons Dining Hall in Schwarzman Center (168 Grove St, New Haven, CT 06511). The dining hall will be open for lunch from 11am – 3pm, guests can pay using credit card. Menu can be found at the following link: <https://hospitality.yale.edu/restaurants-cafes-more/schwarzman-center/commons>. The Commons will be closed during October break, which starts at 5PM on Tuesday, October 17th.

Other Dining locations in New Haven

Downtown New Haven has a wide range of restaurants open for lunch and dinner. Many restaurants are located on Whitney Avenue, Orange Street, Chapel Street, Crown Street, and State Street (darker colored road noted in map below). Please also check out the following links for restaurants located in New Haven: <https://www.infonewhaven.com/food-drink/> and <https://visitnewhaven.com/dining/>. New Haven is particularly famous for its thin crusted ‘Apizza’ (pronounced “ah-beetz”) so we hope you have a chance to enjoy a slice of New Haven-style pie during your visit. Closer to Henry R. Luce Hall, by the Ingall’s Ice Rink, food carts are available to grab a quick lunch. Location will be noted on campus map below.
